REPORT

- . The total rice production globally from 1961 to 2023 is 269 billion tonnes.
- . The total wheat production globally from 1961 to 2023 is 282 billion tonnes.
- . The total tea production globally from 1961 to 2023 is 2 billion tonnes.
- . Africa, America, and Asia lead in the production of green coffee, with Africa being the top producer followed by America.
- . Wheat, maize, and rice production have all shown a steady increase from 1961 to 2023, with wheat production showing the most significant rise over the years.
- . Apples, avocados, bananas, and oranges are produced in varying quantities by different entities, with countries like Canada, Brazil, and Cuba showing significant production volumes.
- . Maize production has consistently increased over the years, with notable jumps around the late 1980s and continuing into the 2000s.
- . Grapes have the highest total production at 43 billion tonnes, followed by apples (39 billion tonnes), bananas (32 billion tonnes), and oranges (26 billion tonnes).

Example:

- Total Production Highlights:

The card visuals indicate a global rice production of 269 billion tonnes and wheat production of 282 billion tonnes between 1961 and 2023, reflecting strong agricultural output.
- Tea Output Monitoring:

A gauge chart shows global tea production reaching 2 billion tonnes, underlining the significance of tea in global agriculture.
- Regional Leadership in Coffee Production

Bar chart analysis shows Africa as the leading contributor to green coffee production, followed by the Americas and Asia.
- Grain Production Trends:

Area chart data reveals a steady upward trend in wheat, maize, and rice production from 1961 to 2023, with wheat experiencing the sharpest growth.
- Fruit Production by Region:

Stacked bar charts indicate that the Americas and Asia dominate fruit production, particularly apples, bananas, oranges, and avocados.
- Maize Yearly Distribution:

A donut chart displays a consistent increase in maize production, especially after 1980, driven by technological and market developments.
- Top Global Fruit Production:

Bar charts show grapes (43 bn tonnes) lead total fruit production, followed by apples (39 bn), bananas (32 bn), and oranges (26 bn).
